ISK BIOSCIENCES KOREA LTD.

The Company's 16 non-consolidated subsidiaries and two affiliates have been excluded from the scope of application of the equity method, as their impact on the Company's net income and retained earnings for the current fiscal year are immaterial, and are also immaterial in the aggregate.

(3) Fiscal Year of the Consolidated Subsidiaries

The fiscal closing date for all consolidated subsidiaries in Japan is March 31. The fiscal closing date for all consolidated subsidiaries overseas is December 31. Their financial statements as of that date are used to prepare the consolidated financial statements, and necessary adjustments are made to reflect significant transactions that occurred between that date and the consolidated fiscal closing date.

(4) Accounting Policies

1) Standards and Methods for Valuation of Assets

Securities

Available-for-sale securities

Securities apart from shares, etc. without market prices:

Carried at fair value (any valuation differences are reported as a separate component of net assets; cost of securities sold is calculated using the moving average method.)

Shares, etc. without market prices:

Carried at cost using the moving average method

Derivatives: Carried at fair value

Inventories: Inventories held for regular sales purposes

Principally stated at cost, determined by the gross average method (carrying amounts on the balance sheet are subject to the book value reduction method based on decreased profit margin).

2) Depreciation or Amortization Method for Non-current Assets

Property, plant and equipment (except for leased assets):

Primarily the straight-line method

Intangible assets (except for leased assets):

Straight-line method

Computer software for internal use is amortized by the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives of 5 years.

Leased assets:

Leased assets under finance lease contracts that transfer ownership to the lessee are depreciated by using the same method as for self-held non-current assets.

Leased assets under finance lease contracts that do not transfer ownership to the lessee are depreciated to a residual value of zero by the straight-line method over the lease term as the useful life.

3) Standards for Recording Allowances and Provisions

Allowance for doubtful receivables:

An estimated amount of uncollectible receivables is recorded based on the aggregate historical experience of bad debts for ordinary receivables. For specific probable doubtful accounts from customers experiencing financial difficulties and those in bankruptcy, bad debts amounts are estimated individually based on their specific collectibility.

Provision for bonuses:

A provision for bonuses to be paid to employees is recorded for the estimated amount of such payments.

Provision for implementation of environmental and safety arrangements:

A provision for expenditure to implement environmental and safety arrangements is recorded for the estimated amount of such expenditure.

Specifically, the provision pertains to expenses related to the remediation of soil and groundwater contamination and measures for buried waste at the Yokkaichi Plant.

Provision for maintenance: A provision for expenditure for the maintenance of certain equipment is recorded for the estimated amount of such expenditure that is attributable to the current fiscal year.

Provision for loss on withdrawal from business:

A provision for expenditure for the withdrawal from the biopharmaceutical HVJ-E development business in the organic chemicals business (healthcare) is recorded for the estimated amount of such expenditure.

4) Standards for Translating the Value of Important Foreign Currency-denominated Assets and Liabilities into Japanese Yen

The amounts of monetary receivables and payables denominated in foreign currencies are translated into yen amounts at the spot rates of exchange in effect at the balance sheet date, and differences resulting from translation are recognized in income or loss. The assets and liabilities of overseas subsidiaries, etc. are translated into yen at the spot rates of exchange in effect at the balance sheet date, revenue and expense accounts are translated at the average rates of exchange in effect during the year, and differences resulting from translation are reported as translation adjustments which is a component of net assets.

5) Method of Hedge Accounting

Hedging transactions are mainly accounted for using the deferral method. Forward exchange contracts which meet certain conditions are accounted for at their contracted rates (the “allocation method”), and interest-rate swaps which meet certain conditions are accounted for as if the interest rates which apply to the swaps had originally applied to the underlying debt (the “special method”).

6) Method of Accounting for Retirement Benefits

a) Method of attribution of expected retirement benefits to each period

In order to calculate the amount of retirement benefit obligations, expected future retirement benefits are attributed to each period through the end of the current fiscal year on a straight-line basis.

b) Method of recognizing actuarial gains and losses and prior service cost in profit or loss

Actuarial gain or loss is amortized from the following fiscal year in which such gain or loss is recognized, by the straight-line method, over the estimated average remaining years of service of the employees at the time of occurrence of such gain or loss.

Prior service cost is amortized as incurred by the straight-line method over the estimated average remaining years of service of the employees at the time of such occurrence.

7) Standards for Recording Revenue and Expenses

The details of the main performance obligations concerning revenue arising from contracts with customers in the main businesses of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries (collectively, the “Group”), and the normal timing of revenue recognition, are as follows.

The Group is mainly engaged in the manufacture and sale of products of the inorganic chemicals business and those of the organic chemicals business. The Company generally considers performance obligations associated with the sale of products to be satisfied at the time of delivery, when the customer gains control over the products, and normally recognizes revenue from the sale of products at the time of delivery.

The Group considers performance obligations associated with construction contracts to be satisfied over a certain period of time, and recognizes revenue based on the progress made in satisfying these performance obligations. Progress is measured based on the ratio of the cost of works incurred as of the end of the reporting period to the forecast total cost of works. In cases where the progress made in satisfying performance obligations cannot be reasonably estimated, but the costs that arise are expected to be recovered, the Group recognizes revenue based on the cost recovery method.

3. Notes on Changes in Accounting Policies

Application of United States Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) No. 842 “Leases”

From the current fiscal year, the Group has applied ASC 842 “Leases” for overseas subsidiaries and affiliates that have adopted US GAAP.

As a result, in principle, all lease transactions in which these subsidiaries and affiliates are lessees are recorded as assets and liabilities on the balance sheet.

This has had no material effect on the consolidated financial statements for the current fiscal year.

4. Notes on Changes in Presentation Method

(1) Consolidated Balance Sheet

1) “Electronically recorded monetary claims - operating,” included in “notes receivable - trade” within current assets in the previous fiscal year (1,000 million yen in the previous fiscal year), is presented as a separate item in the current fiscal year, due to increased materiality.

2) “Electronically recorded obligations - operating,” included in “notes and accounts payable - trade” within current liabilities in the previous fiscal year (1,058 million yen in the previous fiscal year), is presented as a separate item in the current fiscal year, due to increased materiality.

(2) Consolidated Statement of Income

“Gain on sale of investment securities,” included in “other” within extraordinary income in the previous fiscal year (41 million yen in the previous fiscal year), is presented as a separate item in the current fiscal year, due to increased materiality.

5. Notes on Accounting Estimates

Recoverability of Deferred Tax Assets

Amount recorded on the consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year under review:

Deferred tax assets 7,308 million yen

Other information useful for the understanding of estimates:

1) Calculation Method

Recoverability of deferred tax assets is judged through estimated taxable income based on future earning capacity, set against deductible temporary differences and a loss carry-forward in tax accounting. The estimate of taxable income is based on future business plans at the time of the estimate.

2) Main Assumptions

Estimated taxable income based on future earning capacity is based on future business plans. Main assumptions include estimated future sales volumes, and the trends in selling prices and raw materials prices.

3) Impact on the Consolidated Financial Statements for the Following Fiscal Year

Estimated sales volume, one of the main assumptions, is highly uncertain, and there is a risk that changes in forecast taxable income due to fluctuations in sales volume may have a significant impact on the judgement regarding the recoverability of deferred tax assets. A decrease in future forecast sales volume, on which the future business plans are premised, may lead to a reversal of deferred tax assets.

6. Notes to the Consolidated Balance Sheet

8. Notes on Financial Instruments

(1) Status of Financial Instruments

In consideration of plans for capital expenditures, etc., the Group raise required funds through loans from financial institutions such as banks, or issuing bonds, for its domestic and overseas business. The Group manages temporary cash surpluses through only low-risk short-term deposits and the like. The use of derivatives is limited within the extent of risk arising at the actual demand and the Group does not enter into derivative contracts for speculative trading purposes.

Trade receivables – trade notes, accounts receivable – trade, and electronically recorded monetary claims - operating are exposed to credit risk in relation to customers. The risk is mitigated in accordance with the Credit Control Rules. The Group manages market price fluctuation risk associated with investment securities by regularly monitoring market prices and the financial condition of the securities issuer.

Bank loans are used for working capital and capital expenditure purposes, and the Group enters into interest rate swap transactions for some bank loans to reduce the risk of interest rate fluctuations.

(2) Fair Value, etc. of Financial Instruments

The value recorded on the consolidated balance sheet, fair value, and difference between them as of the end of the current fiscal year, are as follows.

Note that shares, etc. without market prices (unlisted shares with a consolidated balance sheet amount of 6,871 million yen) are not included in “available-for-sale securities.”

Notes on “cash” have been omitted. Those on “deposits,” “notes receivable - trade,” “accounts receivable - trade,” “electronically recorded monetary claims - operating,” “notes and accounts payable - trade,” “electronically recorded obligations - operating,” and “short-term bank loans” have also been omitted as they are settled in a short period of time, and balance sheet amounts approximate fair values.

(3) Fair Value Information by Level Within the Fair Value Hierarchy

The fair value of financial instruments is classified into the following three levels based on the observability and materiality of the inputs used to calculate fair value.

Level 1 fair value: Fair value calculated using (unadjusted) quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 fair value: Fair value calculated using directly or indirectly observable inputs other than those in Level 1

Level 3 fair value: Fair value calculated using significant unobservable inputs

If multiple inputs are used that are significant to the fair value measurement, the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the level of the lowest level input that is significant to the entire measurement.

|-------------------------------------------------|------------|---------|---------|--------|
|                                                 | Level 1    | Level 2 | Level 3 | Total  |
| Long-term bank loans, including current portion | -          | 34,630  | -       | 34,630 |

Note: Methods and inputs used to determine the fair value of financial instruments

Investment securities

The fair value of listed shares is measured based on quoted market prices. As listed shares are traded in an active market, their fair value is classified as Level 1 fair value.

Derivatives

The fair value of currency swaps is measured using the discounted present value method with observable inputs such as currency exchange rates, and is classified as Level 2 fair value.

The fair value of interest-rate swaps that meet certain conditions for the special method is included in the fair value of the long-term bank loans that they hedge (see “Long-term bank loans, including current portion” below).

Long-term bank loans, including current portion

Fair value is calculated as the present value of the total of principal and interest of the long-term bank loans, discounted using an interest rate that takes account of the remaining life and credit risk of the loan, and is classified as Level 2 fair value. The special method of interest rate swaps is applicable for long-term bank loans with floating interest rates (see “Derivatives” above), and fair value is calculated using the total of their principal and interest payments that are accounted for together with the relevant interest rate swap.

(2) Information Fundamental to an Understanding of Revenue Arising from Contracts with Customers

1) Revenue from the sale of products

The Group's main performance obligations consist of providing customers with inorganic chemical products and organic chemical products. The Group generally considers these performance obligations to be satisfied at the time of delivery, when the customer gains control over the products, and normally recognizes revenue from the sale of products at the time of delivery. However, the Group applies the alternative treatment prescribed in Paragraph 98 of the Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standard for Revenue Recognition, and recognizes revenue at the time of shipment for domestic sales transactions where there is a normal period of time between the shipment of the product and the transfer of control to the customer. Such revenue is measured as the net consideration promised under the contract with the customer, after deducting discounts, rebates, returns, or other similar consideration payable to the customer.

2) Revenue from construction contracts

The Group considers performance obligations associated with construction contracts in other businesses to be satisfied over a certain period of time, and recognizes revenue based on the progress made in satisfying these performance obligations. Progress is measured based on the ratio of the cost of works incurred as of the end of the reporting period to the forecast total cost of works. In cases where the progress made in satisfying performance obligations cannot be reasonably estimated, but the costs that arise are expected to be recovered, the Company recognizes revenue based on the cost recovery method.

3) Revenue from principal/agent transactions

The Group identifies performance obligations through a consideration of whether it is acting as a principal or agent. For performance obligations judged to comprise arrangements for other companies, etc. to provide the goods or services promise under the contract with the customer, the Group is acting as an agent, and recognizes revenue equal to the net amount of consideration to which it expects to be entitled in return for arranging the provision of said goods or services by other companies, etc.

The Group considers the following three indicators when judging whether it is acting as a principal.

- Whether it is primarily responsible for fulfilling the promise to provide the relevant goods or services
- Whether it has inventory risk prior to the transfer of the relevant goods or services to the customer, or after the transfer of control to the customer
- Whether it has the discretion to set the prices for the goods or services

(3) Information to Enable the Understanding of the Amount of Revenue for the Fiscal Year under Review and Subsequent Fiscal Years

1) Balance of contract assets and contract liabilities

Contract assets comprise accounts receivable - trade that have not yet been invoiced, mainly associated with the recognition of revenue based on the measurement of progress on construction contracts. They are transferred to accounts receivable - trade when the customer accepts delivery and the work is invoiced.

Contract liabilities are related to considerations received in advance of fulfillment based on the contract, and are transferred to income when the Group fulfills its contractual obligations.

All contract liabilities outstanding at the end of the previous fiscal year were recognized as revenue during the fiscal year under review.

2) Transaction price allocated to remaining performance obligations

The Group has applied a practical expedient and omitted presentation of the transaction price allocated to remaining performance obligations because there are no material contracts for which the initially expected contract term exceeds one year.

13. Other Notes

(1) Impairment Loss

The Group has recorded impairment loss on the following asset groups.

For example, real estate for rent and idle assets which are not anticipated to be utilized in the future are classified as individual asset group if they are deemed to generate cash flow independently. Assets not clearly linked to a specific business, such as the head-office building, the facilities for research and development and the facilities for welfare, are classified as corporate assets.

2) Reason for the recognition of a loss on impairment

As future cash flows cannot be expected from the barium titanate materials business at the Hiratsuka plant of the Company's consolidated subsidiary FUJI TITANIUM INDUSTRY CO., LTD., it recorded an impairment loss.

3) Method for determining the recoverable amount

As future cash flows cannot be expected from the equipment in the table above, its recoverable amount was determined to be zero, and its net book value of was reduced to memorandum value.

Notes to the Non-consolidated Financial Statements

1. Notes on Going Concern Assumption

Not applicable.

2. Notes on Significant Accounting Policies

(1) Standards and Methods for Valuation of Assets

Securities

Shares of subsidiaries and affiliates: Carried at cost using the moving average method

Available-for-sale securities

Securities apart from shares, etc. without market prices:

Carried at fair value (any valuation differences are reported as a separate component of net assets; cost of securities sold is calculated using the moving average method)

Shares, etc. without market prices:

Carried at cost using the moving average method.

Derivatives: Carried at fair value

Inventories: Inventories held for ordinary sales purposes

Stated at cost, determined by the gross average method (carrying amounts on the balance sheet are subject to the book value reduction method based on decreased profit margin).

(2) Depreciation or Amortization Method for Non-current Assets

Property, plant and equipment (except for leased assets):

Straight-line method

Intangible assets (except for leased assets):

Straight-line method

Computer software for internal use is amortized by the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives of 5 years.

Leased assets:

Leased assets under finance lease contracts that transfer ownership to the lessee are depreciated by using the same method as for self-held non-current assets.

Leased assets under finance lease contracts that do not transfer ownership to the lessee are depreciated to a residual value of zero by the straight-line method over the lease term as the useful life.

(3) Standards for Recording Allowances and Provisions

Allowance for doubtful receivables:

An estimated amount of uncollectible receivables is recorded based on the aggregate historical experience of bad debts for ordinary receivables. For specific probable doubtful accounts from customers experiencing financial difficulties and those in bankruptcy, bad debts amounts are estimated individually based on their specific collectibility.

Provision for bonuses:

A provision for bonuses to be paid to employees is recorded for the estimated amount of such payments.

Provision for retirement benefits

A provision for retirement benefits to be paid to employees is recorded for the estimated amount of such payments as of the end of the current fiscal year.

1) Method of attribution of expected retirement benefits to each period

In order to calculate the amount of retirement benefit obligations, expected future retirement benefits are attributed to each period through the end of the current fiscal year on a straight-line basis.

2) Method of recognizing actuarial gains and losses and prior service cost in profit or loss

Actuarial gain or loss is amortized from the following year in which such gain or loss is recognized, by the straight-line method, over the estimated average remaining years of service of the employees at the time of occurrence of such gain or loss. Prior service cost is amortized as incurred by the straight-line method over the estimated average remaining years of service of the employees at the time of such occurrence.

Unrecognized actuarial differences and unrecognized prior service cost are carried on the non-consolidated balance sheet in a different manner compared to that on the consolidated basis.

Provision for implementation of environmental and safety arrangements:

A provision for expenditure to implement environmental and safety arrangements is recorded for the estimated amount of such expenditure.

Specifically, the provision pertains to expenses related to the remediation of soil and groundwater contamination and measures for buried waste at the Yokkaichi Plant.

Provision for maintenance: A provision for expenditure for the maintenance of certain equipment is recorded for the estimated amount of such expenditure that is attributable for the current fiscal year.

Provision for loss on withdrawal from business:

A provision for expenditure for the withdrawal from the biopharmaceutical HVJ-E development business in the organic chemicals business (healthcare) is recorded for the estimated amount of such expenditure.

(4) Standards for Recording Revenue and Expenses

The details of the main performance obligations concerning revenue arising from contracts with customers in the Company's main businesses, and the normal timing of revenue recognition, are as follows. The Company is mainly engaged in the manufacture and sale of inorganic chemical products and organic chemical products. The Company generally considers performance obligations associated with the sale of products to be satisfied at the time of delivery, when the customer gains control over the products, and normally recognizes revenue from the sale of products at the time of delivery.

(5) Method of Hedge Accounting

Hedging transactions are mainly accounted for using the deferral method. Forward exchange contracts which meet certain conditions are accounted for using the allocation method, and interest-rate swaps which meet certain conditions are accounted for using the special method.

3. Notes on Changes in Accounting Policies

Not applicable.

4. Notes on Changes in Presentation Method

(1) Non-consolidated Balance Sheet

- 1) “Electronically recorded monetary claims - operating,” included in “notes receivable - trade” within current assets in the previous fiscal year (393 million yen in the previous fiscal year), is presented as a separate item in the current fiscal year, due to increased materiality.
